Labor Organizer Pulled Gun On Him, Legislator Testifies

Rackets Probe
Witness Denies Shelley's Story

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—Rep. John F. Shelley (D-Calif.), a veteran labor leader, identified a burly witness before the Senate Rackets Committee today as the man who pulled a gun on him in 1946.

Michael Katz, the witness, had just got through swearing that he never threatened Shelley or anyone else.

Shelley told the committee the incident occurred when he resumed his post as head of the San Francisco Central Labor Council after an unsuccessful campaign for election as lieutenant governor of California.

He said he learned that in his absence the council had set up a "special organizing committee" which he said Katz, a labor organizer, and others were using to threaten both employers and union members.

Put Gun Back In Drawer
When he walked into the special committee's office in the Labor Temple to demand an explanation, Shelley related, Katz hauled a .38 caliber revolver out of a desk drawer and told him, "Don't get tough with us."

"I told him he had better stuff it back where he got it or I'd stuff it somewhere else, but first," the congressman said.

Katz put the gun back in the drawer, he testified. He went on to say that he would have fired Katz on the spot if he had had the authority. As it was, he said, it required a couple of months of "arranging" before he got rid of Katz and disbanded the special committee.

Katz listened to Shelley's story in stony silence, an unlighted cigar clamped in his teeth.

Shefferman Probe Target
The committee is making a broad investigation of alleged unfair practices in the labor-management field. It is currently concentrating on the activities of Nathan Shefferman, a Chicago labor relations consultant. Robert F. Kennedy, the committee's counsel, has described Shefferman as a union buster.

Henry S. Moser, vice president of the Allstate Insurance Co., told the committee his firm paid $26,693 to Shefferman's organization to defeat a union organizational drive in Michigan.

He testified Shefferman was consulted in 1954 when dissatisfaction arose among some Allstate agents in Michigan and the AFL insurance agents started an organizational movement.

Moser said that when it finally came to a vote the union lost, 54-39. Allstate is a wholly owned subsidiary of Sears, Roebuck & Co.

President Says Job Bit Wearing But Endurable

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he finds his job a bit wearing but endurable.

Eisenhower was asked at his news conference if recent crises in the Middle East and the civil rights controversy in Little Rock, Ark., have burdened him so much as to affect his health.

The President replied that if you go back to July 25 of last year when Egypt seized the Suez Canal, if there has not been a critical problem on his desk every day he can't remember the day.

His job is a bit wearing but endurable if you have got faith in America, Eisenhower said. He ruddy checked and clear eyed and gave no outward indication of strain.

Gaillard Seeks French Cabinet

PARIS, Oct. 30 (AP)—Felix Gaillard tonight accepted an invitation to try to form a new government. He said he would go to work immediately to put together his Cabinet.

The 37-year-old outgoing finance minister, sixth man to be called in the political crisis now in its 30th day, stopped by the Elysee Palace and gave his answer to President Rene Coty.

The Radical Socialist met with a small group of party leaders from the National Assembly and was given tentative promises of support. All of the promises, however, were made contingent on the program Gaillard draws up.

As of tonight, Gaillard's chances of success seemed to be a little better than 50-50. He advocates austerity to pull France from its financial morass.

Army Scientists Compete For Services Of Pvt. Shultz

EDGEWOOD, Md., Oct. 30 (AP)—If they couldn't sell their products to college football coaches, they turned to them.

Dr. Carl C. Lindegren, with halfback, Army scientists set out whom Shultz was associated with while studying at Southern Illinois University before being drafted last April, had called him "the outstanding mathematical genius I have encountered in 30 years of medical research."

Lindegren, director of biological research at the university, had letting this talent "wither on the vine" by assigning Shultz to a called Shultz's assignment as a clerk-typist at Ft. Lee, Va.

Reassigned to the Army Chemical Center at Edgewood, Shultz began a series of interviews with scientists eager to have him in their departments.

"A good-natured fight has developed among the various division heads," said an Edgewood spokesman.

The minute they heard he was coming here, they all asked for a department or division at Edgewood to talk with him and see what he had to say.

Brown Enters Race For Calif. Governorship

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30 (AP)—California Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown today said he would seek the Democratic nomination for governor and predicted his Republican opponent will be Sen. William Knowland, not incumbent Gov. Goodwin J. Knight.

In making the long-expected announcement of his candidacy, Brown, the Democrats' best voter and only statewide officeholder, gave further credence to persistent rumors that Knight would yield to Knowland.

The power elite of the Republican party in California is doing everything it can to dry up the sources of Gov. Knight's financial support and make it impossible for him to run," said Brown. "I have been told by a Republican leader that a deal has already been set."

Brown did not identify the Republican leader or give details of the alleged deal. But even as he was making the remark Rep. Patric Hillings (R-Calif.), who has been busily shuttling back and forth between the rival GOP camps in recent weeks, announced in Sacramento that the Knight-Knowland fight would be settled in the immediate future."

Hillings' statement gains added weight from his close political association with Vice President Nixon, who is known to be interested in seeing that Republican control of California is not endangered by a primary battle between such political titans as Knight and Knowland.

Although the governorship of a powerful state is the immediate stake in next year's election, the Republican presidential nominating convention of 1960 figures prominently in all the maneuvering now going on.

The ambitions of both Nixon and Knowland to enter the White House one day are well known.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—The Navy said today its only active battleship, the USS Wisconsin, will make next week what may be its last cruise.

The Wisconsin will sail Monday from Norfolk, Va., for New York to go into mothballs and the reserve fleet. Navy sources said privately it is doubtful the ship ever again would be placed in service, so completely have battleships been superseded by carriers and special duty smaller vessels.

GI Witness Against Spy Faces Trial

Army Sergeant Admitted Selling Info To Russians

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—Sgt. Roy Adair Rhodes, a government witness at the spy trial of Rudolph Abel, faced espionage charges himself today.

The Army announced he had been charged in court-martial proceedings with two specifications alleging a conspiracy to violate the espionage laws and one specification alleging the signing of an official document in which he failed to disclose prior association with Soviet agents.

A conviction on the espionage charges could carry with it a maximum penalty of life imprisonment, forfeiture of all pay and allowances, and a dishonorable discharge.

Collected $2,500 To $3,000

Rhodes, 40, testified at Abel's trial in New York earlier this month that he sold himself to the Russians while serving as a motor pool sergeant at the U.S. Embassy in Moscow and collected between $2,500 and $3,000 for military information he furnished.

The Army said Rhodes ran the motor pool from May 1951 to July 1953.

Abel was convicted Oct. 25 and will be sentenced Nov. 15. He faces a possible death penalty. Rhodes testified at his trial that he didn't know Abel and never worked for his spy ring. His name entered the case through testimony that Abel possessed a dossier on him under the code name of "Quebec."

Hold At Ft. Belvoir, Va.

Rhodes, whose home is Eatontown, N.J., is now in custody at nearby Ft. Belvoir, Va.

An Army spokesman said the next step in the case will be an investigation to determine whether there is enough substance to the charges against the sergeant to warrant a trial by court-martial.

The spokesman declined to reply to questions as to whether some immunity arrangement may have been made because of Rhodes' testimony in New York. It was said, however, that the filing of charges does not necessarily mean Rhodes will be brought to trial on them.

Island Vanishes Month After Birth

HORTA, Azores, Oct. 30 (AP)—Portugal's new island in the Azores has disappeared under the ocean, exactly 30 days after being born.

During these 30 days the Ilha Nova, as it was baptised, grew to a height of more than 2,400 feet at its highest point, and became joined to Fayal Island by an isthmus.

Earthquakes constantly shook Fayal Island during the month, while violent eruptions shot rocks and ashes into the air and over the fields and houses of Capelinhas village on the adjacent coast.

For the past few days the eruptions have almost ceased and the sea began cutting the new island in two.

Two big explosions came in the last 48 hours.

When guards at Capelinhas awoke this morning they found the island gone and only the remains of the isthmus.

Document Reveals: Red Army Leaders Resent Interference By Soviet Politicians

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (P)—A long-classified U.S. Army document reports there has been considerable resentment among Soviet military men over meddling by politicians in military matters.

It said that after wartime glory, some of the top Red army men were shabbily treated.

The document is four years old. It apparently was declassified from its secrecy ranking about two months ago, but quietly.

A second, and generally ignored Army publication, "The Information Digest," indicates the Army recently completed a reappraisal of the Soviet armed forces—and that U.S. superiority is doubtful.

The discussion of differences between soldiers and politicians gains particular interest now because of the removal of Marshal Zhukov as the Soviet defense minister by the political wing in Russia.

Reds Expected To Launch New Satellite Nov. 7

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 31 (P)—The Communist Daily Worker said today the Soviet Union plans to launch a second and bigger earth satellite next week on the 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution in Russia.

A Moscow-dated story by Worker correspondent Sam Russell said this is only one of a number of scientific and military surprises lined up by the Russians for Nov. 7.

Among them, the story said, will be the launching of the world's first nonmilitary atomic ship, the icebreaker Lenin, and the first flight of the new four-engined turboprop passenger airliner, the Russia.

The new airliner will be able to fly nonstop from Moscow to New York at a cruising speed of about 600 miles an hour and carrying 170 or 180 passengers, Russell reported.

He said the atomic icebreaker, now nearing completion in a Leningrad shipyard, will be able to remain at sea for over a year without refueling and its range of operations will enable it to travel from the arctic to the antarctic and back in a single voyage.

The Daily Worker story appeared shortly after Moscow radio broadcast a statement that Sputnik has several more weeks of life but that its accompanying rocket-carrier soon will crash.

Russia Charges Sputnik Excuse For U.S. Buildup

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Oct. 30 (P)—The Soviet Union accused the United States tonight of using Russia's earth satellite as an excuse for an arms buildup.

Soviet Dep. Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov also said Britain, France and the United States were stalling on disarmament because they followed a "policy of positions of strength in international relations" and wanted "to use atomic and hydrogen bombs as a deterrent against other powers."

He urged in the U.N. General Assembly's Political Committee that the 82-nation Assembly adopt a Soviet resolution to set up a permanent disarmament commission of all 82 U.N. members to meet in the year around.

"A lot of money is being spent in the U.S. and other Western countries," Kuznetsov observed, "to . . . to justify the armaments race, which is profitable only to capitalist monopolies, by false talk of the so-called 'Communist threat' allegedly emanating from the U.S.S.R."

"Even such an event as the launching of a satellite into outer space by the Soviet Union, this greatest scientific event of our time, was used by the U.S.A. as an excuse to step up the armaments race and thus to increase the burden of taxation."

Printed music notes were first used in 1473.

Bill Barring Publication Of U.S. "Secrets" Urged

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (P)—An advertising boycott on the aviation actment of a bill under which weekly newsmen and others could incur some of the 200 business stiff fines and imprisonment for the record talk by Cutler before disseminating "government secrets" was urged today by Loydness Advisory Council in Hot Wright, who headed the Commerce Department's Business.

Wright condemned the magazine "violation on Government Security. . . ."

Wright told the American Society for Industrial Security, at its annual meeting here, that he had Cutler as using the word "treason" to be taken up as one of the first or the article was a "prosecutable" offense, and suggesting that "you advertisers" might wish to reconvene next January."

He also told reporters he "recommended" the publication by Aviation Week magazine of the story that the White House has said Cutler denies the "treason" quotation currently stirring a government and disclaims any mentioning of furor—disclosure that the United States has long had radar equipment in Turkey keeping tabs on Soviet missile firings.

"I regret that anyone would not think more clearly of the possibilities of assisting the enemy before publishing that type of thing," Wright said.

The speaker, whose 12-member commission in June recommended a 106-section bill tightening security rules in some circumstances and easing them in others, added: "Mind you, I think a lot of the government's security classification is nonsense. On the other hand, no private citizen has the right to usurp the powers of the society of tests made with the constituted authorities."

Meantime the House Freedom of Information subcommittee, headed by Rep. Moss (D-Calif.), intensified its efforts to learn whether Dr. Robert Coatey of the National Institute of Health, Beaufort, S.C., told a meeting of the penitentiary system that he had been assured the legislation will soon be passed.

SRC Chief Notes Recent Bids On Road Projects Falling Below Cost Estimates

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30 (AP)—In the Frederick by-pass over Fourth and Seventh streets was awarded said, "we can submit with our chairman of the State Roads Com.—the M. J. ## Tranquillizers' Use Overdone

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—A Maryland physician told the Medical Society of Virginia today tranquilizers are prescribed too frequently as a substitute for the relief of pent-up mental energy.

Dr. Leo H. Bartemeier of Baltimore said tranquilizers are useful adjuncts to psychotherapy if prescribed as temporary measures for immediate relief and if the patients are informed of their palliative nature. But he added:

"There is the undesirable possibility, however, that both the patient and their family physician may be satisfied to do nothing more.

"For some patients nothing else is possible. For the majority of those who are emotionally ill, however, this palliative effect is far from satisfactory."

Dr. Bartemeier, chairman of the Council on Mental Health of the American Medical Assn., said research indicates a connection between the attitude of the physician himself regarding the usefulness of such drugs and their effectiveness on the patient.

"If the physician believes that a specific drug in this group will be beneficial," he said, "his belief is transmitted to the patient. If he is doubtful or unconvinced of its potential efficacy, this is also conveyed, and the drug is of little value."

He said the more than 18-month-long strike will "continue until such time as a satisfactory resolution of the issues has been achieved. None of the issues that led to the strike has been resolved."

O'Sullivan Employees Vote Against Union

WINCHESTER, Va., Oct. 30 (AP)—The O'Sullivan Rubber Co. here has been notified by the National Labor Relations Board the United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers Local 511 does not represent company employees.

O'Sullivan employees voted against union representation in an election Oct. 17-18.

Bonnell said a progress report on the 12-year program is being prepared now for submission to the Legislature when it meets next year. After the commission has completed its work on the report, he said, consultants will be asked to review it and submit companion reports.

John House, union field representative, said the union "will continue to picket and to advertise the fact of O'Sullivan's unfairness."

He said the more than 18-month-long strike will "continue until such time as a satisfactory resolution of the issues has been achieved. None of the issues that led to the strike has been resolved."

Holdup Man Seized Trying Cab Getaway

WESTMINSTER, Md., Oct. 30 (AP)—Fast work by police led today to the arrest of a man who they said held up a filling station and tried to make his getaway in style—by taxicab.

They booked him as Thomas Leroy Adams, 21, of Westminster, Route 5, and charged him with armed robbery and assault with a deadly weapon.

He was arrested after William Krabbs, the filling station operator, told police he was robbed of $57 and slugged by a gunman who had pretended to be looking for work.

Police Chief Charles Seipp said he spotted Adams getting into a cab about three blocks from the filling station and arrested him on the basis of a description given by Crabb.

Glasses That Adorn

Why is it that so many of today's young ladies try to hide the fact that they need glasses? It would seem that they actually prefer to squint, thus running the risk of adding a wrinkle or two to their pretty faces.

Spectacles can be a flattering adornment for the face and a chic accessory for costumes. But you must select your frames wisely (after you get the lenses you need, of course). Here are some face-shape hints that will help you select just the perfect frames for you.

Then, because of already serious unemployment here, he urged American military families to hire them as gardeners and handymen.

Welcome Given Queen Elizabeth Doesn't Compare With One U.S. Gave Lafayette In 1824

By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—So much was written about Queen Elizabeth's visit to this country that the idea may have got about that nothing has equalled this before.

Yet a look today at a special exhibit in the Library of Congress shows that the Queen's trip, fancy as it was, was small pumpkins compared with the way we entertained a visitor way back in 1824. That's when old Marie Joseph Paul Yves Roch Gilbert du Motier de Lafayette came to see once more the country he helped to win its revolution.

He stayed for more than a year, and the applause seems to have been almost continuous. Alert authors turned out books on Lafayette for the great occasion. He was voted $200,000, and a township. The library has saved an old newspaper clipping which gives the President in his arms—he received a few paces, but, overcome with his feelings, again returned, and, uttering, in broken accounts, "God bless you!" fell once more on the neck of Mr. Adams. It was a scene at once solemn and moving."

"As the last sentence was pronounced, the general advanced,

Lafayette's birth, and a time to be had no love for the colonists' remember that international relations are no new invention—and land more.

that a common foe often brings together the most unlikely of allies. Yet from this strange union came one of the world's great love affairs, between Lafayette and the King helped America—though other foreigner has been so successful at winning our affection.

Here he was, only 19 years old, a youngster who never had heard a shot fired in anger and yet a major general in the U.S. Army so eager for glory that he was scared the shooting might be over before he had a chance to show that throughout the war he worried over Lafayette as if he were Count D'Estaing, a relation and his son.

U. Of Md. Is Faced With Problem Of Enrollment

The University of Maryland, not be able to attend, he concluded.

Edmund S. Burke, president of Kelly Springfield Tire Company and a member of the university's board of regents, introduced Dr. Elkins.

Earlier, Burke was presented a plaque in recognition of his work for the County United Fund by Dr. J. Russell Cook, president of the alumni group.

Walter N. Hedrick, assistant to the plant manager, presented the new officers elected include watches while the respective superintendents awarded service certificates and five-star Cela-

Murray, Mt. Savage, secretary-treasurer.

In preparing for the problems of the next decade, Dr. Elkins said the university is primarily interested in three things—students, research and service.

Under a new plan of education entrance and course levels are being designed to reach the average student who applies himself, Dr. Elkins explained.

The university is striving to attain a first class faculty to meet these needs, which demands good teaching and research, he said.

Better salaries are being provided teachers in order to hold the ones there, and attract other top-notch instructors, the president said.

The physical facilities are the last of our aims, but are important. We hope to spend $50,000,000 for capital improvements in the next ten years.

One half will be applied at College Park to handle the anticipated enrollment, and the other half at Baltimore for new buildings for out patient clinics and for pharmacy, nursing, dental and law school expansion.

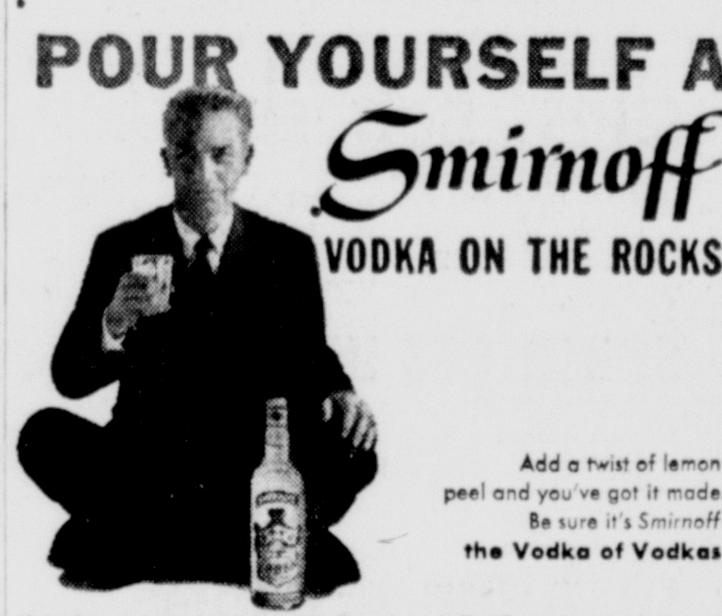

Dr. Elkins, in referring to football, and athletics, said the university is interested in a well balanced program.

Possibly the emphasis in recent years on academic work has had its effect on athletics, he said.

But the university has not let up on athletics so much that it would have a substantial effect on the teams' performance, Dr. Elkins added.

He called on the alumni to lend all the moral and financial help that it can. The nucleus of a university should be its alumni, he added.

The alumni should set up scholarship funds, and assist those students who otherwise would

Flu Illness Delays Polio Vaccine Shots

The Allegany County Health Department has postponed the annual diphtheria immunization program among school children and also the giving of Salk polio vaccine due to the incidence of flu-type illnesses.

Mrs. Jennie Graham, administrative assistant at the Health Department, said that polio shots cannot be given while a child has a cold or flu-type illness and a similar reason has caused the postponement of the diphtheria immunization program.

Most school children have received at least one and in many cases two polio vaccine shots. There are some school children who have had all.

AROUND THE WORLD

The 58 Ford has been proved around the world. This is the most dramatic and most grueling test ever given a new car before its public announcement.

The whole world was used as a test track for the 58 Ford. The car drove through England, France, Switzerland, Italy, Yugoslavia, Greece, Turkey, Iran, Afghanistan, Pakistan, India, Malaya, Thailand, Cambodia, Vietnam, and finally back to the place it started—Detroit, Michigan, U.S.A.

The Ford powered over the great mountain ranges of three continents: from the Alps to the Himalayas and the Rockies. It crossed the great rivers of history: the Thames, the Seine, the Tiber, the Arno, the Tigris, the Euphrates, the Indus, the Ganges.

This car stood at Buckingham Palace, rolled up the Champs Elysees to the Arc de Triomphe, and paused at the Eiffel Tower. It was greeted by the great Paris couturiers at the famous fashion salons where its "sculptured in steel" styling was applauded by the most style-conscious audience in the world. It followed the historic Road to Rome, to stand in the square of St. Peter's before the Vatican. The drivers threw coins in the Fountain of Trevi, and went out the Appian Way to Venice.

Old Lady Tries A New Idea

The Little Old Lady of Threadneedle Street, or the Bank of England to the uninitiated, has come up with an idea that may eventually percolate through to banks on this side of the big pond and, as in Britain, eliminate a lot of costly time in handling petty financial banking transactions.

Receivers of checks in England no longer need endorse them on the back. Bankers hailed this as a long-overdue move to save time and money. They estimated thousands of man-hours have been spent each year in obtaining endorsements and verifying the signatures.

Endorsing is still necessary when checks are cashed across the counter or paid into the account of a person not named as payee. The only other case where signing on the back is still necessary is where they are made out to joint payees.

With these exceptions, the clerk at the counter no longer has to glance at the back of a check. And the time taken on the clearing routine can be cut as much as 25 per cent.

Bankers have been pressing for the move for some years. They claim endorsements long ago ceased to have much value as a safeguard.

The law, as in most other countries, required a payee to sign the check in the same way it was made out. This often differed from the payee's normal signature. Now a check that has been cashed by a bank and returned to the payee is regarded as legal proof of payment.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Zhukov

Under the Soviet system of Democratic Centralism, which is how the Russians describe their government, it is impossible to have a dual leadership. This was evident when Trotsky and Stalin were vying for the top leadership; it appeared in the various efforts of Zinoviev and Kamenev to match Stalin's authority; it reappeared when Stalin died and Malenkov and Khrushchev contested for authority; and when Zhukov asserted a position of dual leadership, he too failed. Whoever heads the Russian Communist Party is the head of the Russian state and of the Communist Party throughout the world. That man is Nikita Khrushchev.

When an effort was made in the United States to give the impression that Marshal Zhukov was really the top man and would replace Khrushchev and was factually the more important man, it gave convincing evidence that those in high places in the American government did not at all understand Russia and that therefore the situation between the two countries is hopeless.

If the State Department and the CIA preferred Zhukov to Khrushchev, they based their judgment on misinformation or on correct information incorrectly evaluated. Only those in control of the Communist Party control Soviet Russia.

There are 40 years of knowledge and experience in our relations with Soviet Russia and that is long enough for mature men to recognize a pattern of activities and attitudes which is clear-cut and understandable. What the Russians have is a government which is held in tutelage by a political party and the party itself is controlled by the Presidium of the party which is itself controlled by one man, that one man now being Nikita Khrushchev. Each people develops a government according to its own character and traditions.

The fear of Napoleonism is very strong among the Communists. Whether it affects the younger people, I do not know. But it was this fear that destroyed the career of Leon Trotsky, who organized the Red Army and who at one period of the revolution was its most attractive figure, even more attractive personally than Lenin.

Nevertheless, Trotsky was destroyed politically by a crude, unattractive personality, Stalin. It might be said that one reason for Trotsky's failure was that he was of Jewish origin, although as a Marxist Social Democrat he practiced no religion. I think that that explanation is far-fetched; surely, in the early years of the Revolution there were no evidences of anti-Semitism. That came later when Stalin needed it for his own purposes.

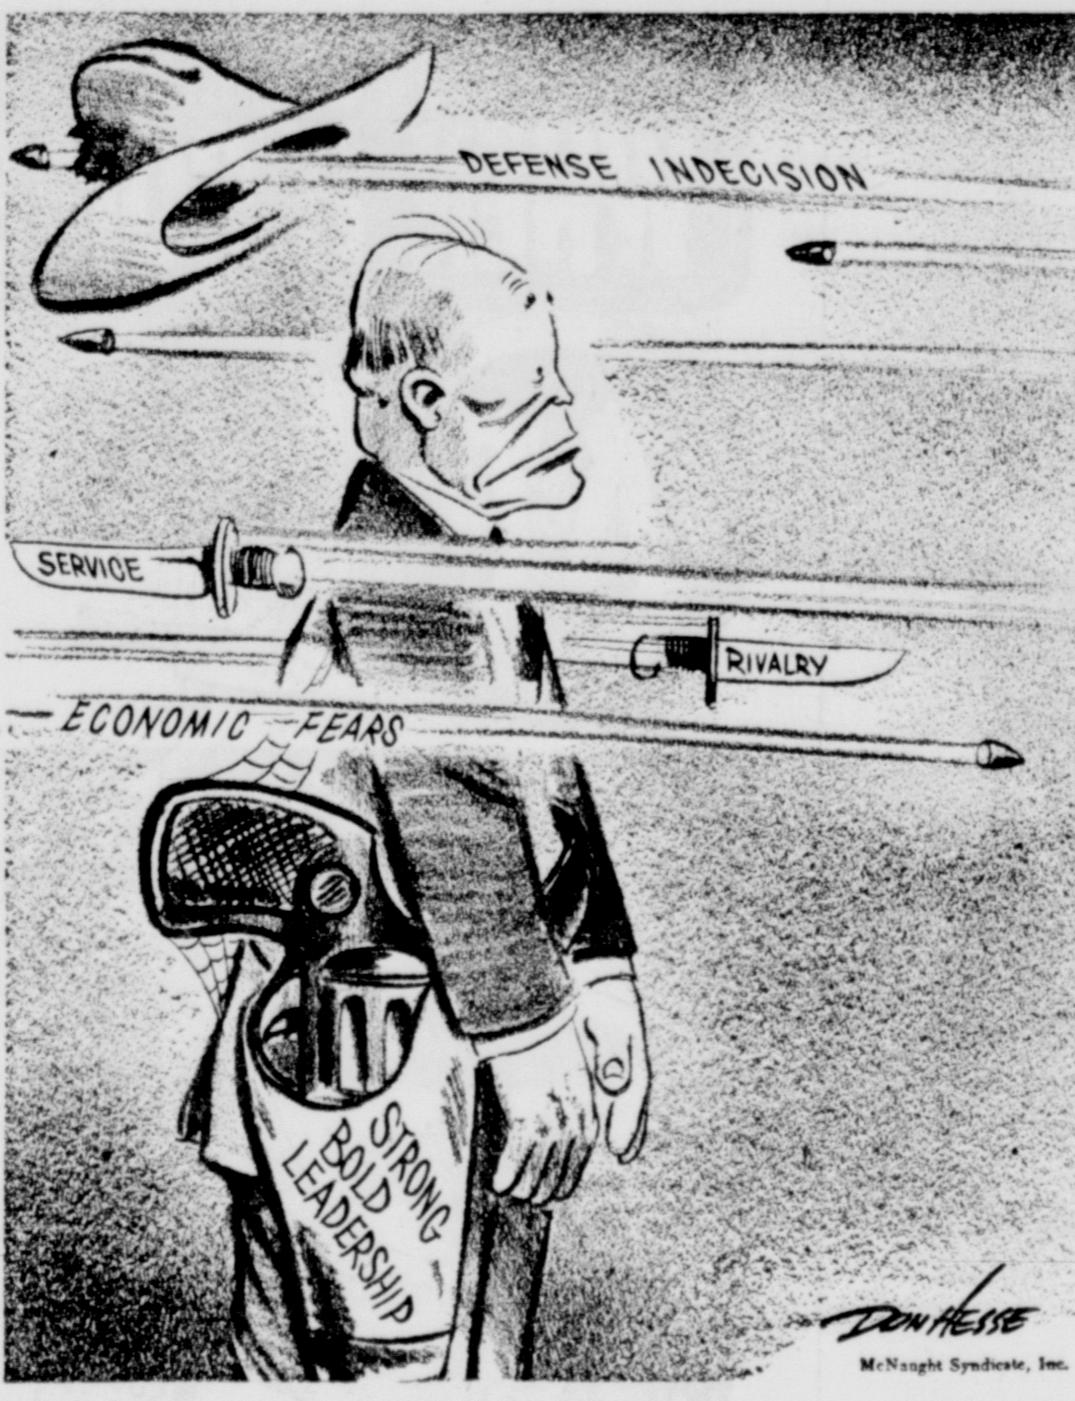

It was the fear of Napoleonism that broke Trotsky. Napoleonism means the conquest of a revolution by a military dictatorship. It was the fear of Napoleonism that made it possible for Stalin to reduce Zhukov immediately after World War II in which Zhukov played a role which the Russians have regarded as equal to Eisenhower's. We made a popular hero of Eisenhower; Stalin sent Zhukov to the sticks.

Whether that is Khrushchev's intention or whether he means to keep Zhukov in Moscow, we shall not know until the Tass Agency issues a cold statement announcing what has happened. It could be that Khrushchev will make Zhukov the head of a company making electric razors which happened to General Douglas MacArthur, or the principal of a school which happened to General Mark Clark or a manufacturer of tin cans which is what became of General Lucius Clay. But whatever it is, it will be the Presidium of the Communist Party which will do the making.

There must be a greater political upheaval in the Communist world than we can recognize at this distance. All the foreign correspondents in Moscow have not described this upheaval for us, but the evidence of change, dissent, disagreement, anger, quarrels, appears in the course of events. I would like to venture a guess as to what it is all about. I have a feeling that time will bear me out. My guess is that the basic disagreement among Soviet officials is over the question as to whether the war-scared blackmail should be continued against the United States and what are the risks. My further guess is that some day a large number of military men will be purged on the ground that they are pro-American or anti-Arab.

Khrushchev Resists Emergence Of New Order

By Joseph Alsop

WARSAW
In this strange city where the flame of freedom still boldly flickers almost in the shadow of the Kremlin, one finds oneself oddly haunted by the memory of Prince Metternich, of all people.

He was not a fool although he looked one, this vain, painted astute defender of Europe's old order.

"The principle of legitimacy," meaning the right to rule of those who have always ruled, was the motto on Metternich's battle standard. Under that standard he fought his long rear-guard action for monarchy and aristocracy, against nineteenth century Europe's new order of capitalism and democracy.

Ironically, one remembers Metternich because "the principle of legitimacy" can also be seen from Warsaw, inscribed upon the banners of none other than Nikita Khrushchev. Khrushchev too is fighting for an old order, the rule of the Soviet Union by the appointed apparatus-priesthood of the sacred Communist Party. And the dismissal of Marshal Zhukov as Soviet Defense Minister looks very much like one outcome of Khrushchev's fight.

Like Metternich, Khrushchev is resisting the emergence of a new order, in the form of the Soviet Union's massive new classes of Officers in the armed services and industrialists and agriculturalists and scientists and other able men in positions of authority, who are party members but not appointed Communist priests.

These huge social classes were formed by Joseph Stalin as humble servants of the Soviet state. While Stalin's terror endured, their humility endured. But now the terror is over, and the question arises whether the state's servants will become the state's masters. The question has taken human form in the person of Marshal Zhukov, the first Soviet citizen ever to achieve full membership in the sacred Party Presidium without rising through the ranks of the apparatus-priesthood of all people.

It is a useful corrective to picture the strange movements in the Kremlin in this manner. Before he was relieved as Defense Minister, Zhukov had certainly attained vast power. He had in his hands the great lever of power of control of the Soviet armed forces, and quite possibly the further enormous lever of substantive control of the Soviet police. But Zhukov's dismissal is a reminder that legitimacy, which Khrushchev has had on his side as head of the Communist Party apparatus, is also a most important source of power in all states.

If you doubt this curious, unarmed and intangible power of legitimacy, just consider the story of the first Roman imperial dynasty, founded by Julius Caesar and Augustus. After Augustus' death, no less than four emperors, including two perverted lunatics and one aged cripple, were needed to make the Roman legions realize that their real power could make an emperor who did not belong to the deified dynasty.

So one has to ask oneself whether the principle of legitimacy will not retain its old spell and strength, in this same fashion, in the Soviet Union for quite a time to come. And against this key question, one must balance the other key question, whether the men of the new Soviet order, men like Zhukov, have the ambition and resentment that are needed to make them challenge successfully the old order.

Here the evidence is fragmentary but dramatic. There is the eyewitness account of the bitter resentment in the face of Zhukov, just returned from postwar exile, when he stared down Stalin's ex-collaborators and repeated our Ambassador Bohlen's famous Kremlin toast, "To justice."

There is the authentic story of Khrushchev's greetings to Marshal Rokossovsky at the moment of crisis in Warsaw in October a year ago. To the Soviet viceroy of rebellious Poland, Khrushchev's first words, "You are not a marshal but a word utterly unprintable."

There is the further fact that Zhukov brought back the dishonored Rokossovsky from Poland to Moscow and made him Vice Minister of Defense. And before he was dismissed as Defense Minister, Zhukov placed this same Rokossovsky in command of the Soviet armies in the Caucasus. Surely it means something that Zhukov's first intervention in Khrushchev's Turkish crisis was giving the vital border command to a man who must have been at least strongly inclined to take orders from Zhukov rather than Khrushchev.

In so doing, Zhukov may have initiated his own downfall. In any case, Khrushchev and "the principle of legitimacy" seem to have triumphed again, at least for a time. Khrushchev has triumphed in part thanks to the active support now being given him by those natural legitimists, the leaders of the Communist parties here in Poland, in Yugoslavia, and elsewhere beyond Russia's borders. But Khrushchev and legitimacy have certainly faced a serious challenge, and may do so again.

American, British Women's Figures Compared

the same waistline as the first queen, and was 4 inches more in hip girth (35-26-36).

The author of the magazine article thinks the boyish form of the flapper was significant of the feminist age that brought woman's suffrage, companionate marriage, and bottle feeding of babies. He does not mention the better nutrition of today's youngs.

The British medical journal recently carried an editorial, "Measure to Maid." It described basic differences between British and American women. Our gals are slightly heavier, longer in body, shorter in the legs, and smaller in the bust.

Approximately 200,000 measurements were made on 5,000 English women between the ages of 18 and 70 and the statistics were fed into an electronic machine to be digested and analyzed.

The average weight, between the ages of 18-39, was 126 pounds and the average height was 63.4 inches; between 30-44, weight was 133 pounds and height, 63 inches; and between 45-64, women averaged 140 pounds and were 62.1 inches tall.

The data showed also that in 66 per cent, hip girth and in 25 per cent they were the same. In only 9 per cent did bust measurement exceed that of the hips.

The English editor comments on this minority, with the Hollywood type of figure, "The top-heavy film star profile of large bust is statistically a trifle freakish."

TOMORROW: Complications of hernia.

VITAMIN A IN FOODS

Mrs. W. writes You mentioned the symptoms of an overdose of vitamin A. Can a person get too much of this vitamin in foods?

REPLY

No. Overdose has occurred only among those who used high potency vitamin capsules, containing 100,000 units or more, several times a day. A pound of butter, for example, contains only 150 units. I doubt if any stomach could take enough food to match the amount in the capsules.

race of people, aptly described as spending their lives doing things they detest to make money they don't want to buy things they don't need to impress people they dislike."

plied, when pressed further regarding the reasons for the disastrous transfer.

"You can't even comment as to whether you are chairman of the Stewart Committee?"

"No, I can't comment on whether I am chairman of the committee," was the reply. "All I can say is that I've served on several committees."

This was leaning over backward a bit, because Dr. Stewart was in hisself-penned biography in Who's Who that he is a member of the Technical Evaluation Group of Guided Missiles Committee, Research and Development Board 1948-50; chairman of the rigid wall of secrecy thrown up by the Eisenhower Administration, however, it's impossible to probe further. But the mistake was so important to the prestige of this country that a Congressional committee with the power of subpoena should pursue the matter further. The above is about as far as a mere newsman can go.

100-Year Cold War

Now that the Prime Minister of England has had a chance to report to friends and associates, more details of his talks with Eisenhower are leaking out. The most important aspect of their conference was Macmillan's and Eisenhower's conclusion that the cold war would continue from two to four generations. If the span of generation is about 25 years, this would be from 50 to 100 years.

Macmillan has told friends that he and Eisenhower concluded the Russians had shown themselves much stronger than expected, with the result that the free world must gird itself for a long, slow economic and political battle.

Other highlights of his report: Relations between Britain and the United States were never better . . . The December 16 meeting at Paris will be but the beginning of several. There should be many meetings between the heads of the American and British governments. "After all, the distance between London and Washington by air is no longer than the distance between London and Edinburgh by train."

Pat Hurley

By Bob Considine

NEW YORK, Oct. 30—(INS)—If you've been wondering what became of Pat Hurley, our colorful former ambassador to China, special emissary to the Kremlin, Secretary of War and dealer in the folklore of the old Red River Valley, we can tell you.

Ran into my old friend at the Waldorf the other day and found him more as a boil at a newspaperman. Me.

Seems that a few weeks ago I wrote a piece saying that while in Chongking Pat kept a reporter from going north to write some pieces about that simple agrarian Mao Tse-Tung. Pat says this isn't true.

That much taken care of, Pat relaxed and filled me in on what he has been doing of late.

"I found me some uranium," he said. "Found it in three places—Ambrosia Lake, New Mexico, Gas Hills, Wyoming, and in the Wet Mountains of Colorado. Nice little discoveries. I'd say. Even with the market acting up, I'd say I've got four-five million dollars worth of the stuff."

I told him I was going to Russia.

"Now, there's a place," Pat said with emphasis. "I'll tell you the hardest job you'll have. It will be the job of separating the Russian people from your pre-set feelings about Communism."

"The old Russky himself is a dame's fine fellow, good-natured, good-humored, and a fine soldier. I was in the field with him at Stalingrad, the only American of my rank—brigadier general, then—brigaded to move with the Red Army. I was with Gen. Vatutin's army one hundred and eight kilometers down the basin of the Don when the final push began. We closed in from one side, Zhukov from the other. I went right through the snows with those boys."

I asked him why he had been sent to Moscow in the first place.

"Well, it was Roosevelt's idea, of course," Pat recalled in his expansive way. "You see, I had been in Australia in the days right after the fall of Corregidor, and part of the job was to explain to those people down there, and the New Zealanders, just why Washington figured that the big war was in Europe, not Asia. It wasn't easy, with the Japanese coming closer every day."

"Now, Roosevelt just didn't

Idun Captures Frizette Stakes At Jamaica

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—Unfeated Idun, running easily on the front end all the way and merely coasting in the final sixteenth of a mile, won the $89,650 Frizette Stakes today at Jamaica and broke Top Flight's 26-year-old money-winning record for a 2-year-old filly.

With Bill Hartack in the saddle for a rocking chair ride, the little bay champion from the stable of Mrs. Charles Urich Bay defeated the Fox Catcher Farms' Lopar by a length and a half at odds of 1 to 10—shortest of the New York season.

Big Fright, half of the Pastore Stable's entry along with Short Pause, was beaten a head by Lopar, while the Llanguen Farm's Guide Line finished fourth in the field of seven juvenile fillies.

Kinnick -- 'Coach On Field'

By WALTER L. JOHNS

Central Press Sports Editor

THE NAME of Nile Kinnick is a legend on the University of Iowa campus.

And that's as it should be.

Kinnick, an "all - everything" back at Iowa during 1937-38-39, left the campus to fight for Uncle Sam.

He gave his life.

He died in the waters of the Caribbean sea after his fighter plane plunged into it after taking off from a carrier on June 2, 1943.

The memory of this great one is perpetuated at Iowa by several Kinnick Memorial scholarships, awarded annually to outstanding young men from Iowa High schools whose records show they have the potential for emulating the ideals and achievements of Kinnick.

KINNICK was known as a football player and he was that. But he was a star in basketball, too, and was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, winning the Iowa athletic board cup for excellence in scholarship and athletics.

Because of his brainy handling of all situations, Kinnick was called "the coach on the field."

A HOME-STATE boy, Kinnick played High school football at Omaha, Neb., where his family had moved, and made the Iowa team as the quarterback in 1937.

He climaxed his career in his senior year by being selected on the All-American team, awarded the Heisman, Camp and Maxwell trophies and then ranked first in the national poll to pick the All-Star team for the Chicago game.

In his senior year he played 402 minutes out of 420, led Iowa to victories over Notre Dame and Minnesota on successive Saturdays, accounted for 998 yards in offense, threw 11 touch-down passes, drop-kicked 11 points after touchdowns and personally scored 41 points.

Against Notre Dame his punting was magnificent. He booted the ball 16 times for a 45-yard average as Iowa beat the Irish, 7 to 6.

He played full time in six of the eight games on the Iowa schedule that year.

Comeback Player of 1957 in the National League.

Hank, whose 195 pounds mounted on a 6-foot-3 frame makes him a dominating figure on or off the baseball field, beamed from ear to ear.

"That's great," he said, adding his thanks to the members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America who voted for him in the annual Associated Press poll.

"Funny thing, I noted Bobby Shantz got the award in the American League. I didn't think I'd get it but you remember, Bobby was voted the most valuable player in his league in 1952 and I won it in the National League the same year."

"Guess we're just a couple of comeback kids," said Hank.

Manager Harry Craft, who took

Major Leagues Coach Purge To Continue

Ten Changes Made, Four Others Due

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—The purge of major league baseball coaches, which began almost immediately after the 1957 season closed, is likely to continue right through the winter.

Besides the eight who have been released and the two who have quit on their own, at least four other so-called managers' right hands are certain not to return in 1958. Several others are in the doubtful stage.

The New York-transferred San Francisco Giants may have an entire new coaching set-up under Manager Billy Rigney. The Cincinnati Redlegs will make a coaching change soon as will the New York Yankees and Pittsburgh Pirates.

The world champion Milwaukee Braves, who gave the ax to three of their four coaches, still need a third base coach. The announcement of the new third base coach—sometime next week—may create a stir.

The Giants, having accepted the resignation of Tommy Henrich, are about ready to announce that Davey Williams, last year's third base coach, will be working for the club in another capacity, probably as a scout.

Charlie Keller, who returned to the Yankees as coach last spring when Bill Dickey was forced to leave because of illness, will remain on his Frederick, Md., farm, breeding trotters and pacers. Dickey's return depends upon his health. Otherwise, it will be someone else.

The October coaching casualties so far have included Connie Ryan, Charlie Root and Johnny Riddle, Braves; Billy Herman and Jake Pitzer, Dodgers; Whitlow Wyatt, Phillies; Walker Cooper, Cardinals, Henrich, Giants, Jim Gleeson, Athletic and Clyde Sukeforth, Pirates.

"I don't know what to say," said Hart in a telephone interview from Pasadena, where the Lions are working out this week before meeting the 49ers in San Francisco. "What's going on, anyway? As far as I'm concerned, this whole thing is hearsay and does not exist."

Some of the Lions players and coaches suggested that the 6-5, 250-pound fullback has been "dogging it." They talked to reporters with the understanding their names would not be used.

"I love this game and I always have tried to play it to the best of my ability," said Hart, a veteran of eight National Football League seasons with the Lions. "I got hurt—tore a hamstring muscle two days after our exhibition opener against Cleveland."

Besides that good feeling in his right arm, Le Baron credits his position to the Redskins' ground game and some classy catching by end Johnny Carson and other receivers.

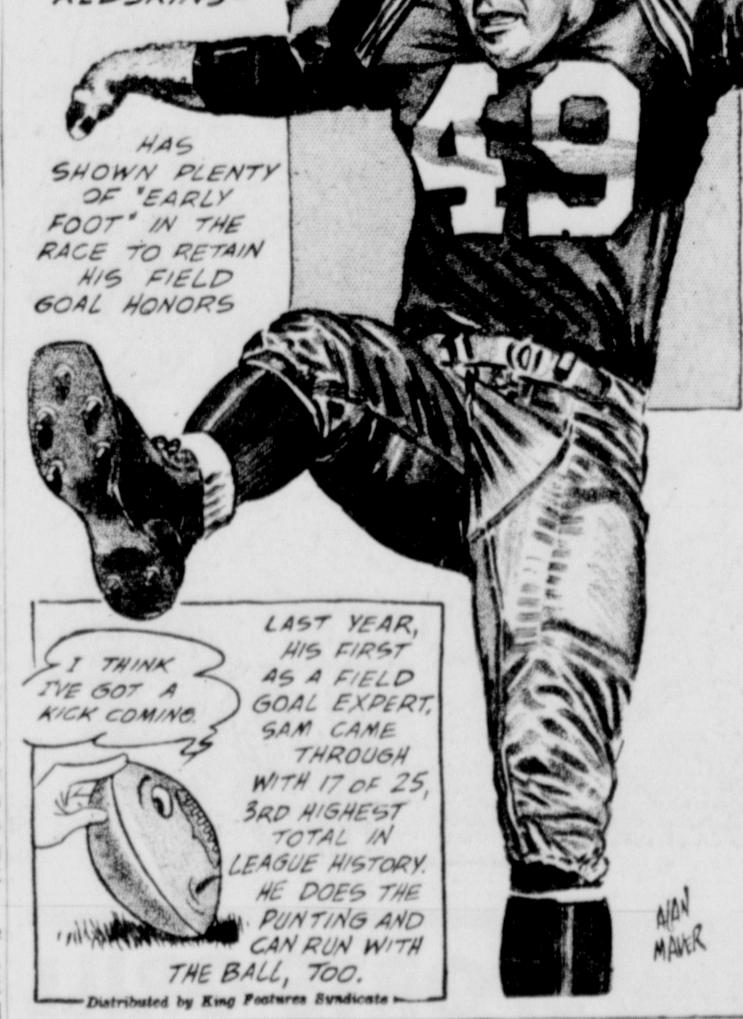

Le Baron probably would be the last choice of anyone trying to pick out the typical pro quarterback. The 27-year-old Californian stands only 5 feet 7 and weighs 165 in winter clothes. If linemen didn't crouch, he'd be lost from view.

over the A's from Lou Boudreau in mid-season, made the announcement.

Hefner had 10 years experience in the majors, playing with the New York Yankees, St. Louis Browns, Philadelphia A's and Detroit Tigers.

Hart "Surprised, Sorry" At Attitude Of Mates

Detroit Star Is Said "Loafing"

Club President Edwin J. Anderson said: "If the coaches feel he (Hart) has outlived his usefulness, they can get rid of him. But I talked with the coaches last night. They said they're going to go along with Leon and hope he can come through for us."

"Hart never has been a popular player with his teammates. He's a lone wolf, more or less, and he goes his own way. That's his business. It is true that this season he has been injured—how seriously only he knows."

"I've heard these grumblings by other players for a long time, but players don't determine who stays and who goes. I know Hart is a great football player under normal circumstances. I know he can win some games for us this season."

Declathon Closes Racing Career On Successful Note

Cops Garden State Track Feature Race

Adds $14,820 Purse To Winnings; Will Be Retired To Stud

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 30 (P)—River Divide Farm's Declathon closed out his racing career on a successful note today by winning the Princeton Handicap at Garden State Park by a neck over Nan's Mink.

The $14,820 purse captured by Declathon in the six furlong sprint brought his career earnings to $269,668, a neat profit above the $15,000 price for which his owner purchased him.

Declathon carried a staggering impost of 133 pounds and stayed in front all the way under Jockey Johnny Lawless' whip to hold off a stretch bid by Nan's Mink.

Declathon spotted the runnerup 21 pounds and avenged a defeat he suffered in this same test a year ago.

In third place, another length and a quarter back, was Itobe, a Brookfield Farms entry.

Trainer Rollie Shepp said Declathon would be vanned to Columbus, Ohio, Saturday and would enter stud in Kentucky next year. Declathon had 42 races and won 25.

He paid his backers today $2.80, 2.40 and $2.20.

Darwin Robeson tallied all the points for his team as the Northern High Huskies snapped a two-game losing streak with a 19-7 triumph over the Fort Hill Jayvees yesterday at Fort Hill Stadium.

Coach Denver Mitchell's Huskies, who saw an 11-game winning streak snapped by Beall High two weeks ago and then lost again last week to Berlin, Pa., scored in each of the first two quarters yesterday. They bounced back after the Little Sentinels tallied in the third period and added the final touchdown to register their sixth victory in eight games this season.

Robeson, leading scorer in the area, galloped 60 yards for the initial six-pointer and added the point on a keep play.

In the second stanza Robeson went 23 yards for the counter and concluded the scoring for the day with a 14-yard romp for a touchdown following a blocked kick in the 4th period.

Dick Shrebridge accounted for the only scoring for Fort Hill when he plunged the final seven yards for the six-pointer in the third period for Coach John Franks' team. He also added the point on a line play.

Northern will close its season November 9 at Oakland, meeting Southern High Highlanders for the second time this year. Northern copped the first encounter October 9 by a 33-0 score. The lineups:

The Kindergarten Approach

The third of Frank Capra's scientific programs, "The Strange Case of the Cosmic Rays," broadcast on NBC-TV last week in color, left me more than a little annoyed. The science shows, paid for by the Bell Telephone Company, are thoroughly admirable in aim and gigantic in scope but increasingly vexing in execution.

"Confused?" cried Carlson at one point, speaking of the scientific reaction to the discovery of the pi meson. "They were bewitched, bothered and bewildered." That is fairly typical of the exclamatory prose style foisted on Carlson and Baxter and it is the very antithesis of the spirit of scientific inquiry. Most scientists, I imagine, listening to a few minutes of this cutesy verbal posturing would flee screaming. The great intellectually unwashed would not even hover for a couple of minutes.

It's a darned shame, too, because there were bits of film on missile research in the upper air that were wonderfully colorful and stimulating. Occasional glimpses of the workings of the stars were, for moment or two, very provocative — and then the galloping cuteness would close in; the cosmic rays would start getting little cartoon faces; the prose style would head for the kindergarten.

The fourth of the Capra scientific programs, titled "The Unchained Goddess," will be about the weather. It'll be broadcast February 12 next year, and I hope the kindergarten approach has been curbed.

The South Cumberland Business Men's Association made plans yesterday to provide for thousands of spectators and hundreds of mummers during its annual Halloween celebration tonight.

A parade, which will get underway at 7 p.m., will form on Humboldt Street, traversing Virginia Avenue and disband at First Street. ## Market Scores Sizable Gain On So-So Volume

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (UPI)—Prospects of the government loosening its purse strings on defense spending helped the stock market to a sizable advance on moderate volume today.

Aircrafts were the pacemakers so far as activity is concerned and scored a whole string of gains of a point or more. The steels, motors and rails were ahead more modestly while the chemical section made a ragged showing except for Du Pont.

Revere was up 1 at 29½. But Kennecott rose 4½, Phelps Dodge 3½, Anaconda 2 and Magma—despite a sharply lower income report—rose 2½. International Nickel was ahead 2½ and American Smelting 1½.

Based on the rise in the average the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange rose an estimated $1,870,000.

Volume totaled 2,060,000 shares compared with 1,860,000 yesterday.

Ventientes-Camaguey Sugar was the most active stock, off 1 at 11½ on 46,900 shares. Second was Boeing, up 2 at 34½ on 32,200 shares. Third was Bethlehem Steel, up 4 at 40% on 25,100 shares.

Next came Standard Oil (N.J.), up 1 at 53½, and General Motors, up 4 at 39.

U. S. Steel was ahead 1 following yesterday's 1-point rise. Joy Manufacturing rose 1½ on an extra dividend.

D.J. Williams Named To Fill Delegate Post

Ernest B. Treat Is Selected For GOP Committee

David J. Williams, 49, of Midland, was appointed to fill the vacant post in Allegany County's delegation to the House of Delegates at a meeting last night of the Allegany County Republican Committee.

Mr. Williams will serve as a replacement for Samuel M. Berry, 47, of Westernport, who died recently.

James S. Getty, assistant state's attorney and chairman of the GOP committee, also announced that Ernest B. Treat has been selected to fill the vacancy on the committee, since the late Delegate Berry also was a member of the GOP committee.

Mr. Getty said 11 persons sought the post in the General Assembly, while eight applied for the vacant spot on the committee.

To Resign Posts

The new delegate is a native of shaft and is employed on the staff of the Tidewater-Hazelwood Firms at Luke. He is a member of the GOP committee and is a substitute trial magistrate at Midland.

Mr. Williams said he plans to resign from the committee and his trial magistrate job when he receives his commission from Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin.

He is married to the former Margaret L. Coleman and has six children and seven grandchildren. He is a member of Midland Methodist Church, Lonaconing Fire Company, Georges Creek Valley Lodge 126, AF & AM, Knights of Pythias, Improved Order of Redmen, Lonaconing Republican Club, and is chairman of the Midland Medical Center Committee.

Delegate Williams will serve until the November 1958 general election and will attend the 30-day session of the General Assembly in January.

To Serve Until Election

Mr. Treat, who was named a committee member at last night's meeting, resides at 704 Piedmont Avenue and is serving his second term as assistant county tax collector.

He served his first term from 1947-51 and then was named county tax collector for 1951-55. His second term as assistant collector will expire in 1959.

Mr. Treat also will serve until the November 1958 general election.

Members of the committee who were present at last night's voting which took place in the County Building on Union Street included Thomas Elias, Victor M. Hebb, Edgar Lewis, Melvin Sloan and David Miller. Lt. Francis Miller, serving in the U. S. Air Force, voted by mail.

Mr. Getty, although chairman of the committee, is not entitled to a vote.

Applicants for the delegate post were Mrs. Samuel M. Berry, Okey Michael, Harry T. Warnick, Jonathan Sleman, George Meyers, Harold Brooks, Irvin Alexander, William King, Robert L. Jeffery, Adele T. Miller and Mr. Williams.

Those who sought the committee post were John Robert, Melvin Whittfield, Thomas Williams, Edward Evans, Ernest Poland and Mr. Treat.

Hite Is Moved Into Detective Bureau

Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn has announced a change in personnel in the Police Department with Officer E. Gordon Hite being moved into the detective bureau on the 5 to 1 shift.

In announcing the shift, Chief Flynn said it at present is a temporary move and he hopes to have Officer Hite gain added experience in his new post as a plainclothesman.

Meanwhile, Detective Joseph H. Stitzer has been moved from the 5 to 1 shift to the daylight crew, assisting Lt. James E. Van and Detective Thomas J. See. This move, explained the chief, is "to expand the daylight working crew."

Local 37-B To Meet

Local 37-B, Operating Engineers, will meet Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Allegany Labor Temple, according to Harry Hickle, business agent.

Rizer Cites Unique Phases Of State's School System

Assistant Superintendent of Schools Richard T. Rizer yesterday outlined three specific areas in which the Maryland public school system is unique in leading a discussion among a group of county teachers enrolled in a first-year group of the Institute of Maryland Public Affairs.

Joseph Byrnes, a teacher at Pennsylvania Avenue School is group leader for this IMPA unit of 26 teachers. Charles E. Wattermann was chairman of arrangements for yesterday's discussion which ran from 4:15 until 6:15 p.m.

The first manner in which Maryland's public school system is most unusual is in the matter of age. Mr. Rizer said that when Maryland's public school system was organized in 1867, 90 years ago, it was one of the first in the United States.

Maryland's school system is unique in its equalization fund which assures that the counties with limited financial resources will have adequate educational facilities. The retirement system for public school teachers also was a trail blazer and has been copied in many other states, the assistant superintendent added.

The county unit in Maryland public school affairs also has greater authority than most other counties. The county commissioners in each county are faced with the legal responsibility of meeting the county school budget without major changes and levying the necessary taxes to insure collection of the needed funds.

New Health Officer To Locate Here

Dr. Ton van Strien, who will assume his duties as Allegany County Health Officer soon, made a successful house hunting expedition here yesterday.

Accompanied by his wife, Elly, and Mrs. Jennie J. Grahame, administrative assistant of the department here, he inspected a number of homes and made plans to purchase a home on Frederick Street.

Dr. van Strien told Mrs. Grahame he will be here on November 15 to take over his new duties.

Dr. and Mrs. van Strien have three children, two boys and a girl.

The Board of Allegany County Commissioners were advised this week by Dr. Perry F. Prather, director of the State Department of Health, that the transfer of Dr. van Strien from Charles to Allegany County has been approved.

He will succeed Dr. Winter R. Frantz, who retired from the post in May.

The commissioners were informed they will have to pay the difference between $14,000 and $9,980 from November 15 to January 1. After that the difference will be between $14,000 and $10,389, the salary scale under which Dr. van Strien will be listed as of January 1.

Dr. Prather said there is a study currently under way of state salaries and it is the hope of the state agency that the gap between the unmatched funds and state funds paid to Dr. van Strien will be considerably narrowed in the not too distant future.

Also enlisting was Cletus E. Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cletus E. Price Sr., Jane Frazier Village, a former student of Fort Hill High School.

Because so many inmates of the Allegany County jail are victims of the current rash of influenza-type illness, Sheriff Edward R. Muir announced yesterday that visitors will no longer be permitted to visit the institution.

Sheriff Muir said he acted on the recommendation of Dr. J. E. McLean, county physician, who visited the inmates this week.

A. E. Johnson Wins Top Post In Kelly Union

Local 26 Schedules Installation Nov. 16

A. Earl Johnson yesterday afternoon was declared president of Local 26, Rubber Workers Union, as an election committee completed counting ballots cast in a runoff election.

Mr. Johnson, a former president and currently vice president, defeated Alva C. Lewis in the balloting. Both are employed in the Curing Room of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

Also elected to two-year terms in the runoff voting were Clyde E. O'Baker, for the Policy Committee post, and Nelson Brant, W. W. Jewel and Robert Swarner as members of a seven-member Executive Board.

A total of 1,017 ballots were counted in the contest and three were void.

Some 1,750 hourly paid workers at the Kelly plant were eligible to take part in the election held Tuesday in the conference room of the Kelly plant.

The results of the runoff were announced by Leo Barkman, secretary for the committee headed by Francis Finn.

The new officers will be installed at a ceremony planned November 16, at 7:30 p.m.

Elected in the first balloting October 17 were Charles Little, vice president; William Sheetz, secretary; Joseph V. Burke, treasurer; Ralph C. Beard, A. J. Jenkins, R. P. Muir and Clyde O'Baker, Executive Board, and Lawrence Jenkins, James Green and Dirk Vandenberg, trustees.

CUF Work To Continue Until Nov. 8

Lewis J. Ort general campaign chairman of the County United Fund, said yesterday that workers cannot stop yet because the job is not finished even though the drive is way over the top.

Mr. Ort said many of the workers are victims of the flu-type illnesses that are going around and there are still many calls to be made by the various teams.

He also added that initial reports are to be made by the chairmen of Mt. Savage, Clarysville, Ellerslie, Flintstone, Shaff and Cresapton.

Officials at the campaign headquarters in the County Building on Union Street said the staff will continue receiving reports there until Friday, November 8, and auditors will continue making daily tabulations.

The headquarters also announced that any chairman, captain or individual who missed the victory dinner and did not receive his engraved plaque or Oscar may pick it up at the Union Street office.

Earl K. Hess, chairman of the Keyser division, said yesterday the Piedmont Foundry pledged $1,000 to the Golden Gifts unit of that town. He also announced that school teachers in Mineral County will be contacted this week.

Officials of the drive said the record-breaking total of $316,517 which was reported at Tuesday night's victory dinner continued to grow yesterday and $320,000 is expected to be reached today.

Identified as John Brown Arrison, 47, he is being held on a warrant issued yesterday afternoon by Magistrate Donald W. Mason to County Investigator Edward R. L. Keyser in connection with a check cashed at a local grocery store on October 7.

Mr. Lila said a 29-year-old woman with Arrison when they were picked up by city police at a local hotel was not involved in the check charge and was being released.

He said Arrison, who is a former B&O worker here, will also be questioned in connection with several checks he reported he passed here yesterday.

Detectives Thomas J. See and Joseph Stitzer arrested the pair yesterday afternoon at the hotel.

Police said Arrison narrowly escaped being picked up earlier yesterday when he slipped away as officials of a local supermarket alerted police when he tried to cash a check.

Oil Pot Upsets

Central Fire Company was called to the 100 block of Frederick Street yesterday at 4:27 p.m. after an oil pot used to block an alley was upset and ignited a rubber cone-shaped dummy.

They are Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel in the county public schools, and Frederick H. Sheeley, one of the three visiting teachers. Family illness is preventing Miss Esther M. Carter and Eugene J. Hopkins from attending.

This is the second of five conferences scheduled during the current school year by Dr. Thomas G. Pullen Jr., state superintendent of schools.

Paul L. Wolford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy A. Wolford, 96 Bowery Street, Frostburg, enlisted for three years and will attend the Army's radio and TV repair school at Fort Monmouth, N. J., for 30 weeks. He graduated from Beall High School in 1956.

St. Luke's Will Move To Frederick St.

$385,000 Church To Be Built In Bopp Addition

St. Luke's Lutheran Church will move its place of worship to the Elmer Bopp Addition near the end of Frederick Street.

Rev. William R. Snyder, the church pastor, said the decision to move from the present church at the intersection of Bedford and Columbia streets was taken unanimously last night at a congregational meeting attended by some 200 members.

The new church will be constructed on a lot 250 feet along Frederick Street, between Feeding and Bopp avenues and extending back to a depth of 1,100 feet.

Rev. Mr. Snyder disclosed that the congregation already has about $135,000 cash in its building fund, originally collected with the idea of building an addition to the present church built in 1927.

To Cost About $385,000

The new church will cost about $385,000 and will be of contemporary gothic architecture. The church will have a seating capacity of about 500 persons. A Sunday school wing will be constructed utilizing modern educational ideas in a functional building.

Norman Mansell, a Philadelphia architect, attended last night's meeting to discuss the building plans. It is hoped that construction can be started in the spring and that the church unit will be ready for dedication about June 1959. The Sunday school unit will be added later.

Rev. Mr. Snyder said there will be plenty of parking space at the new location. Besides this advantage, the congregation will be able to operate an outdoor recreational program at the new site. The scenic beauty of the new location also was cited.

More Convenient

Most members of St. Luke's Church now come to the church in automobiles and have trouble finding parking space in the immediate neighborhood which also includes two other churches.

Only about 10 per cent of the congregation of 1,000 confirmed members live within a five block area of the present church. That means that probably 90 per cent of the congregation already comes to church in automobiles and will find it more convenient to go to the new church.

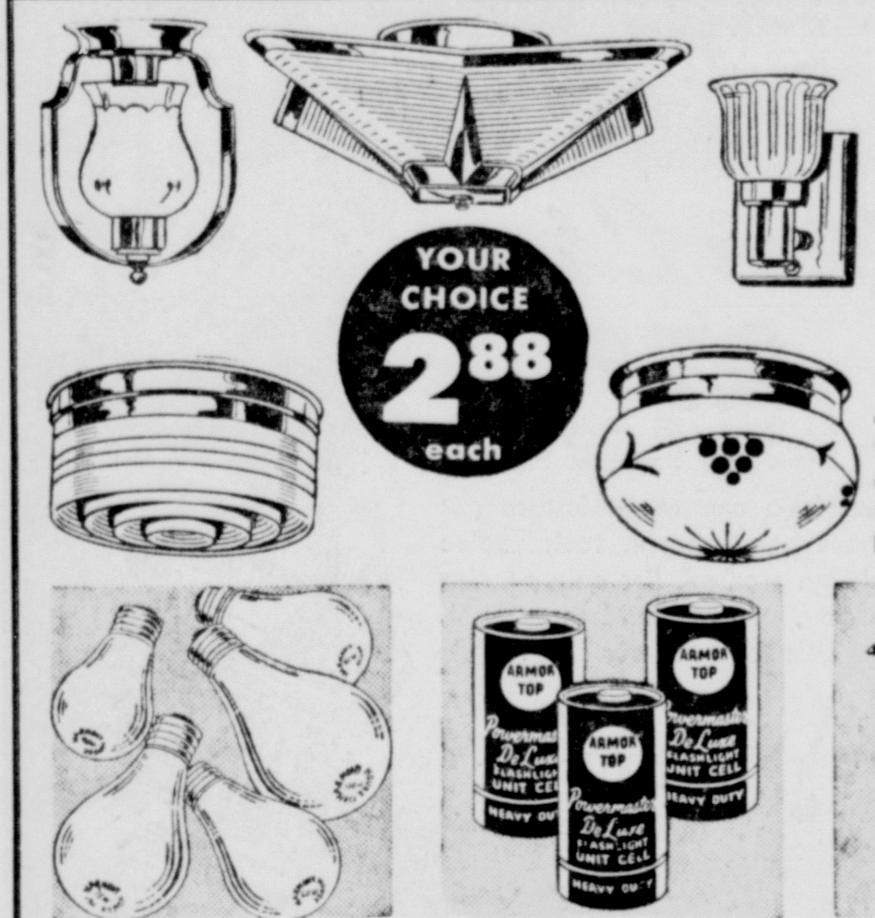

St. Luke's has functioned as a separate congregation since 1848 and utilized the old Town Clock Church, now the Christian Church, until 1927. It was a descendant of old Christ Lutheran Church which operated where St. Paul's Lutheran now stands.

Only about 40 per cent of ninth-grade general science courses include lab work.

Mr. Webster said Allegany County does not provide individual lab work for its pupils in seventh, eighth and ninth grade required classes in general science. However, there are demonstration tables and the teacher is equipped with laboratory apparatus to demonstrate points brought out in the textbook.

In the tenth grade or sophomore year in senior high school virtually all students take biology. Some dissecting
